

Rational Inattention and Related Topics

CERGE-EI

Prague, May 26-27 2016

PROGRAMME

May 26

9.20-12

Mark Dean (Columbia University): Experimental Tests of Rational Inattention

Hassan Afrouzi (University of Texas Austin): Rational Inattention in Strategic Environment

Peter Katuscak (CERGE-EI): Taxpayer Confusion: Evidence from the Child Tax Credit, with Naomi Feldman and Laura Kawano

Mirko Wiederholt (Goethe University Frankfurt): The Rational Inattention Filter, with Bartosz Mackowiak and Filip Matejka

1.30-4.10

Bartosz Mackowiak (European Central Bank): Computational Aspects of Solving Dynamic RI Problems

Christopher Sims (Princeton University): Discrete behavior in information-constrained problems, with Junehyuk Jung, Jeong-Ho Kim and Filip Matejka

Naveen Gondhi (Kellogg School of Management): Rational Inattention, Misallocation, and Asset Prices

Vasiliki Skreta (UCL): Incentive-Driven Inattention

Evening: conference dinner

May 27

9.20-12.00

Andrew Caplin (NYU): Economic Data Engineering and Rational Inattention

Patrick Gaule (CERGE-EI): It's Good to be First: Order Bias in Reading and Citing NBER Working Papers, with Dan Feenberg, Ina Ganguli and Jonathan Gruber

Ming Yang (Duke University): Coordination and the Relative Cost of Distinguishing Nearby States, with Stephen Morris

Sandro Ambuehl (Stanford University): An Offer You Can't Refuse? Incentives Change How We Think

1.00-3.40

Jakub Steiner (CERGE-EI and University of Edinburgh): Rational Inattention Dynamics: Inertia and Delay in Decision-Making, with Colin Stewart and Filip Matejka

Daniel Reck (University of Michigan): Taxpayer Search for Information: Implications for Rational Attention, with Joel Slemrod

Filip Matejka (CERGE-EI): Electoral Competition with Rationally Inattentive Voters, with Guido Tabellini

Kristoffer Nimark (Cornell University): Delegated Information Choice, with Stefan Pitschner.